

SINGING in the wilds

A retreat to liberate voice, body and soul in nature

Set in the hills of west Wales, living close to the Earth, contemplating the natural world and our own wild and liberated nature.

We will work with song, movement and ceremony, celebrating our connection to life, giving voice to what is sacred in each of us.

The group will be supportive, focused and respectful - join us whether you sing or think you can't.

£350 or £325 when an £80 deposit is received by 1st July.

Includes all food and accommodation.

with Anthony Johnston and Paloma Suarez

Wed 29th July to Tues 4th Aug
